ECOSH Leads:

Alan Wallis

We are delighted to introduce Alan, one of our newest members of the team as our Diploma lead. A NEBOSH marker and former HSE inspector, Alan has a lifetime's experience working in the Health and Safety field. Alan is a former Marine Engineer who has experienced real life incidents that has inspired him to undertake a career in health and safety.

Bob Bailey

As our Construction certificate lead, Bob has a lifetime's experience in the construction industry. With the improving construction sector, we are launching the construction variant for those wishing to specialise in this area.

John Couldstone

As our General certificate lead and a longstanding member of the ECOSH team John continues to provide excellent, consistent and experiential tuition that learners find accessible and helpful to their learning.

Our tutors:

John Harris

A training professional in the industrial sector, John Harris continues to support our General certificate delivery for those who prefer to study in the twilight sessions we offer.

Lesley Charlesworth-Browne

Lesley directs professional programmes at the Grimsby Institute and is always happy to speak to businesses and learners alike about their development needs.

Lesley Smith

Lesley Smith is the friendly voice at the end of our phone and can help you with your booking and enquiries .

Ray Stephenson

Ray, a paramedic trained specialist leads our First Aid provision which covers all aspects of general first aid and more specialised aspects such as paediatric and emergency first aid and first person on scene. Ray leads a team of mostly former and current paramedic trainers and assessors.
